DENVER, Nov 2, (AP) — In only the fourth meeting of teams 6-0 or better, Peyton Manning tied Brett Favre's NFL record with his 186th regular-season win and Denver rattled Aaron Rodgers into one of the worst games of his career in the Broncos' 29-10 victory over the Green Bay Packers on Sunday night.

Murphy returned it across the 50 and fumbled, but Snead recovered. The Giants were flagged for a face mask penalty, setting up the winning kick.

Bengals 16, Steelers 10

In Pittsburgh, Ben Roethlisberger's return wasn't enough to prevent the Bengals from getting off to their best start in franchise history.

Andy Dalton threw a touchdown pass with 2:57 to go, and the Bengals picked off Roethlisberger twice in the fourth quarter.

The Bengals are 7-0 for the first time and have a comfortable lead in their division. The defending AFC North champion Steelers (4-4) hoped Roethlisberger's return after missing four games with a sprained knee would kick-start them. After leading most of the game, they fell apart in the closing minutes.

Shawn Williams' diving sideline interception at the Pittsburgh 45-yard line set up Dalton's 9-yard touchdown pass to A.J. Green, who had another big game against the Steelers. He finished with 11 catches for 118 yards. Reggie Nelson's second interception set up Mike Nugent's 44-yard field goal with 1:47 to go. The Steelers drove to the Cincinnati 16-yard line with 4 seconds left, but Roethlisberger's pass went out of the end zone to finish it.

NEW YORK, Nov 2, (RTS) — Kansas City ended a 30-year wait for a World Series title as the Royals reigned over Major League Baseball with a 7-2, 12-inning victory over the New York Mets on Sunday.

12th and the Royals added four more runs in the inning as they captured the best-of-seven series 4-1.

The visitors swarmed into the middle of the diamond in the hushed Citi Field stadium for a celebration by the mound where closer Wade Davis had struck out the side to end it.

Catcher Salvador Perez was named Most Valuable Player of the Series after batting .364 with two RBIs, three runs scored and a .391 on-base average, and expertly handling a pitching staff that more than held their own against the vaunted Mets hurlers.

"It is unbelievable we feel like a family here and we knew we were going to do something special this year, I felt it in spring training," Perez said. "Now I don't feel pain, I don't feel nothing. I am ready to celebrate."

The Royals' triumph was all the sweeter coming after their agonizing Game Seven loss in last year's World Series to the San Francisco Giants and a large contingent of blue-shirted Royals supporters crowded around their dugout to share in the joy.

"The heart, the desire, and their competitiveness and their character showed through every single game," Kansas City manager Ned Yost said about his players.

It marked Kansas City's first Fall Classic crown since their 1985 triumph against cross-state rivals the St. Louis Cardinals. The Kansas City comeback kids trailed 2-0 heading into the ninth but rallied to tie the game, ruining the shutout bid of starter Matt Harvey and handing closer Jeury Familia his third blown save of the series. At the end of eighth, the crowd chanted "Harvey! Harvey!" hoping to see him come out to pitch the ninth, and the Mets ace ended the suspense when the bearded 26-year-old ran from the dugout to the mound to Citi Field cheers.

Harvey, who had dueling with Royals starter Edinson Volquez in the tense battle, walked leadoff hitter Lorenzo Cain, who promptly stole second base. Eric Hosmer followed with a line-drive double to left that scored Cain to make it 2-1.

Mets manager Terry Collins then called in Familia, who was charged with blown saves in Game One and Game Four. Familia got Moustakas to ground out to first as Hosmer raced to third. Perez hit a grounder to third baseman David Wright, who bluffed Hosmer back toward the bag before throwing on to first base for the out.

But as soon as Wright released the ball, Hosmer broke for home and first baseman Lucas Duda's throw to the plate came in wide as Hosmer slid in safely to tie the game.

FOOTBALL

Wearing the blue jerseys they did in beating the Packers for their first Super Bowl win in 1997, the Broncos piled it on in the fourth quarter, when DeMarcus Ware sacked Rodgers and the ball ended up in the end zone for a safety.

The Broncos improved to 7-0 for the first time since 1998, when they won the Super Bowl after finishing 14-2.

Rodgers was 14 of 22 for just 77 yards for the Packers (6-1) 6 the lowest of his career in a game where he wasn't knocked out by injury. Although neither quarterback threw for a touchdown, Manning was 21 of 29 for 340 yards. The Packers had only 140 yards of total offense to Denver's 500.

Saints 52, Giants 49

In New Orleans, Drew Brees passed for career highs of 511 yards and seven touchdowns, and recently signed Kai Forbath kicked a 50-yard field goal as time ran out, giving New Orleans the victory in a game with a record 13 scoring passes.

Eli Manning connected on a career-high six touchdown passes, three to fellow New Orleans native Odell Beckham Jr, but New York (4-4) fell for the second time in three games. The 101 points tied for third most in NFL history. The teams combined for 1,030 yards. Brandin Cooks and Willie Snead each had two touchdown catches for the Saints (4-4), who have won four of five after an 0-3 start. Brees' other three touchdown passes went to Marques Colston, Ben Watson and C.J. Spiller, the last to tie the score at 49 with 36 seconds left.

The Saints' defense then forced a Giants punt with 20 seconds to go. Marcus
