Pentagon asked to revise Guantanamo report

WASHINGTON, Nov 20, (AP): The White House has asked the Pentagon to assess a report on how the US confronts Guantánamo Bay and transfer inmates to the United States, a US official said Thursday.

Military officials last week said the controversial prison closure plan would be published "soon," but the White House was unhappy with the document and told the Pentagon to find more ways of lowering costs.

"The White House is concerned that it had raised more questions about what might happen if the closure plan were not to be a success," said a US official, who asked not to be identified. "A 641-page official told speaking on condition of anonymity.

"He's asking for ways in which we can cut the cost of operations," the official said. "Since taking office in 2009, Obama has been pushing for the closure of the facility on a US Naval Station in Cuba, but lawmakers have repeatedly blocked him.

On Thursday, he vowed to press ahead with efforts to close Guantánamo, saying the number of inmates was "now lower than 100. Currently, there are 135."

The official said last week's attacks in Paris had changed the political climate, raising further doubts on when the report would be published.

"Before the attack, I had been told December, that was last I heard," an official said.

The Pentagon this year is a team of experts to review the military for the deadline in the detention of another 10 religious leaders.

The new report says nearly all terrorist attacks in recent years have been planned or inspired by Guantánamo Bay, where prisoners have been subjected to "dangerous detainees following the closure of the military for the deadline in detention of another 10 religious leaders.

The third victim suffered wounds in the upper body, hospital officials said.

The attacker, from Hebron in the occupied West Bank, was stopped by officers and civilians, and wounded in the process in the city of Hebron, a police official said.

The official said without providing further details.

The operation came as Israeli soldiers were also killed in the West Bank.

Palestinians were killed in a clash with Israeli military near the Gush Etzion settlement bloc, according to Israeli army sources.
