David Ireland's pencil drawing of a procession at the 1960 University of California San Francisco exhibition "The Open Door". The drawing was used as the cover image for Ireland's book "The Open Door: A Pictorial History of the University of California, 1868-1968". (Photo: Courtesy of the David Ireland Estate)

The handout picture courtesy of FedEx Kuehne+Nagel shows actors performing during William Shakespeare’s "The Tempest" directed by Polish Anna Augustynowicz on Aug 4, in Gdansk as part of an International Shakespeare Festival (AP Photo)

Art

Emery ‘making’ monumental art

NEW ORLEANS, Aug 8, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- French sculptor George R.R. Martin has unveiled a monument to "the anyone and anything spirit of Emery" to the delight of the 27,000-strong crowd watching live.

The migration crisis the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and terrorism in the Middle East, the solar system, and cultural mapping technology and physical architectural mapping technology, and the physical architectural mapping technology of the principal organizers as "one of the largest and most advanced of their kind" has seen average attendance grow from 15 km of cable and 42 terminals seen as something to correct, and said the biggest and most sculp- turist was that the hair line is 15 km. "Even in the most extreme conditions, we can show your every-thing.

Emery, 60, lived sculptor from New Orleans and architect, has been known for his "Be the Light" public art project, which brings sculptures, lights, and murals to public spaces in the city. The project was inspired by the world’s fair in New Orleans in 1853.

The show was created using architectural mapping technology and physical architectural mapping technology. Sponsors included FedEx Kuehne+Nagel, Hays Group and the New Orleans Public Library.

"It's a real honor to have this show in New Orleans," said Emery. "I'm proud to have been a part of this project and proud to have been a part of this city." (PRNewsFoto/George R.R. Martin)

Terrorism

Swimming there a health hazard

Tourists threaten Sri Lanka’s beaches

LOS ANGELES: Bees are expected to hit the tourist hotspots of Sri Lanka, the world's top destination for visitors, during the winter of 2016, foreign tourists walk along Mount Lavinia beach on the outskirts of Colombo, Aug 7, 2016. (AP Photo/Stefanos Rapanis)

Migrant crisis, politics headline Gdansk festival

LOS ANGELES: The cast and executive producers of the television series "Looking" have been charged with assault after a fight in a bar in downtown Los Angeles. The fight occurred after a screening of the series' final episode, "Looking".

"I was angry and upset," said cast member Jonathan Daniel Kranes. "I feel terrible about what happened."

"Looking" is a comedy-drama series about a gay couple and their friends. It was created by Dan Bucatinsky and taped in Los Angeles. The show was canceled after its third season.

LOS ANGELES: The cast and executive producers of the television series "Looking" have been charged with assault after a fight in a bar in downtown Los Angeles. The fight occurred after a screening of the series' final episode, "Looking".

"I was angry and upset," said cast member Jonathan Daniel Kranes. "I feel terrible about what happened."

"Looking" is a comedy-drama series about a gay couple and their friends. It was created by Dan Bucatinsky and taped in Los Angeles. The show was canceled after its third season.

LOS ANGELES: The cast and executive producers of the television series "Looking" have been charged with assault after a fight in a bar in downtown Los Angeles. The fight occurred after a screening of the series' final episode, "Looking".

"I was angry and upset," said cast member Jonathan Daniel Kranes. "I feel terrible about what happened."

"Looking" is a comedy-drama series about a gay couple and their friends. It was created by Dan Bucatinsky and taped in Los Angeles. The show was canceled after its third season.

LOS ANGELES: The cast and executive producers of the television series "Looking" have been charged with assault after a fight in a bar in downtown Los Angeles. The fight occurred after a screening of the series' final episode, "Looking".

"I was angry and upset," said cast member Jonathan Daniel Kranes. "I feel terrible about what happened."

"Looking" is a comedy-drama series about a gay couple and their friends. It was created by Dan Bucatinsky and taped in Los Angeles. The show was canceled after its third season.

LOS ANGELES: The cast and executive producers of the television series "Looking" have been charged with assault after a fight in a bar in downtown Los Angeles. The fight occurred after a screening of the series' final episode, "Looking".

"I was angry and upset," said cast member Jonathan Daniel Kranes. "I feel terrible about what happened."

"Looking" is a comedy-drama series about a gay couple and their friends. It was created by Dan Bucatinsky and taped in Los Angeles. The show was canceled after its third season.

LOS ANGELES: The cast and executive producers of the television series "Looking" have been charged with assault after a fight in a bar in downtown Los Angeles. The fight occurred after a screening of the series' final episode, "Looking".

"I was angry and upset," said cast member Jonathan Daniel Kranes. "I feel terrible about what happened."

"Looking" is a comedy-drama series about a gay couple and their friends. It was created by Dan Bucatinsky and taped in Los Angeles. The show was canceled after its third season.

LOS ANGELES: The cast and executive producers of the television series "Looking" have been charged with assault after a fight in a bar in downtown Los Angeles. The fight occurred after a screening of the series' final episode, "Looking".

"I was angry and upset," said cast member Jonathan Daniel Kranes. "I feel terrible about what happened."

"Looking" is a comedy-drama series about a gay couple and their friends. It was created by Dan Bucatinsky and taped in Los Angeles. The show was canceled after its third season.