EU agrees to ratify Paris climate deal

BRUSSELS, Sept 30 (AFP) — Environment ministers agreed Friday to fast-track the ratification of the landmark Paris agreement on climate change, despite the fact that some national parliaments have yet to approve the deal.

"All member states promptly early ratifi cation of Paris Agreement, which some beholden political reason, have agreed to speed up the process in view of the climate crisis," the statement said.

The ministers "agreed to speed up the process of ratifi cation of the Paris Agreement, which is shaping up to be even warmer, US and Euro-

EU climate chief Miguel Arias Cañete said on Twitter. "Victory!" tweeted French Environment Minis-

President Barack Obama and Xi Jinping.

The pact will likely enter into force by the end of the year, record speed for an international treaty.

The ministers "agreed to speed up the process of ratifi cation of the Paris Agreement, which is shaping up to be even warmer, US and Euro-

EU climate chief Miguel Arias Cañete said on Twitter. "Victory!"

BRUSSELS, Sept 30 (AFP): EU environment ministers agreed Friday to fast-track the ratifi cation of the landmark Paris agreement on climate change, despite the fact that some national parliaments have yet to approve the deal.

"All member states promptly early ratifi cation of Paris Agreement, which some beholden political reason, have agreed to speed up the process in view of the climate crisis," the statement said.

The ministers "agreed to speed up the process of ratifi cation of the Paris Agreement, which is shaping up to be even warmer, US and Euro-

EU climate chief Miguel Arias Cañete said on Twitter. "Victory!"

BRUSSELS, Sept 30 (AFP): EU environment ministers agreed Friday to fast-track the ratifi cation of the landmark Paris agreement on climate change, despite the fact that some national parliaments have yet to approve the deal.

"All member states promptly early ratifi cation of Paris Agreement, which some beholden political reason, have agreed to speed up the process in view of the climate crisis," the statement said.

The ministers "agreed to speed up the process of ratifi cation of the Paris Agreement, which is shaping up to be even warmer, US and Euro-

EU climate chief Miguel Arias Cañete said on Twitter. "Victory!"

BRUSSELS, Sept 30 (AFP): EU environment ministers agreed Friday to fast-track the ratifi cation of the landmark Paris agreement on climate change, despite the fact that some national parliaments have yet to approve the deal.

"All member states promptly early ratifi cation of Paris Agreement, which some beholden political reason, have agreed to speed up the process in view of the climate crisis," the statement said.

The ministers "agreed to speed up the process of ratifi cation of the Paris Agreement, which is shaping up to be even warmer, US and Euro-

EU climate chief Miguel Arias Cañete said on Twitter. "Victory!"