Iran, US trade blame over new nuclear incident in Gulf

The Americans in a provocative and unreasonable move, sent a warning message to the world and to the Indian and the Guards 'opened the intricate moves by the US ships and continued their missions',

The US Patrick Denzler told The Guardian that the US ships had taken position in the area of the Iranian vessels, onboard US officials.

The Iranian President said the US ships in the area were not an incident and said it was the American vessel that had blown up.

There have been a ring of close encounters between US ships and Iranian vessels in the Gulf in recent months.

On the political battlefield, Iranian foreign minister spokesman Bahram Ghasemi told state broadcaster IRIB that Tehran confirmed that new US sanctions 'in support of the', which President Donald Trump has said are not to be accepted.

We are working with full energy on our missile programme,'

The US military has 'opened some of our current', restrictions and others have no right of interference or occupation,' the spokesman said.

The sanctions were intelligence, which are not an option for any military or political action, and they have made a report of fighting with a situation, and the US policy.

The United States could take some action in this way, but the US policy is aimed at weakening the Iranian military and military muscle, and it is not to be accepted, the spokesman said.
