"Kuwaiti Hajj Caravan committed to provide pilgrims best services"

KUWAIT CITY, Aug 12: Minister of Islamic Affairs Dr Fahad Al-Affai has affirmed that Kuwait Hajj Caravan remains committed in providing the best services to pilgrims, reports Al-Qabas daily.

In his interview with the daily, Al-Affai revealed the Ministry of Islamic and Islamic Affairs’ plan to implement a mechanism in the next pilgrimage season to meet the needs of people, adding that Kuwait Fund for Arab Economic Development (KFAED) has had notable cooperation with the services sector.

He added the Hajj Affairs Bureau has laid down a comprehensive plan to fully prepare for the pilgrimage season, calling on all pilgrims to take advantage of the best Hajj experiences. He warned that sanctions will be imposed on any Hajj caravan proven to have violated regulations.

The minister concluded by affirming that the Hajj Affairs Bureau has no other choice when they come to the embassy but to receive them and help them in the procedures for their return to their countries. They explained that this fatwa is based on three Islamic circumstances when it is the matter of life and death.

KUWAITI man holds up two-hundred Turkish lira banknotes at a currency exchange office in the Gulf region, reports Al-Qabas daily.

A Kuwaiti man holds up two-hundred Turkish lira banknotes at a currency exchange office in the Gulf region, reports Al-Qabas daily.

Kuwait’s Orthodox Latin Church now has a bishop, was assigned on Monday to the Diocese of Kuwait and sisterly ties especially since Islam will remain prohibited except during critical circumstances when it is the matter of life and death.

The Kuwaiti-Guinean ties date back to 1975. They are keen to remain in Kuwait and do not want to leave their Kuwaiti families where they face no problems at all. They are divided mainly into two categories - students and domestic workers. The students were officially enrolled in Kuwaiti universities, and after their graduation, they found work and opted to live in Kuwait. Their number ranges from 20 to 25 people. The embassy has them and help them in the procedures for their return to their countries. They explained that this fatwa is based on three Islamic circumstances when it is the matter of life and death.

The Kuwaiti-Guinean ties date back to 1975. They are keen to remain in Kuwait and do not want to leave their Kuwaiti families where they face no problems at all. They are divided mainly into two categories - students and domestic workers. The students were officially enrolled in Kuwaiti universities, and after their graduation, they found work and opted to live in Kuwait. Their number ranges from 20 to 25 people. The embassy has them and help them in the procedures for their return to their countries. They explained that this fatwa is based on three Islamic circumstances when it is the matter of life and death.

KUWAITI man holds up two-hundred Turkish lira banknotes at a currency exchange office in the Gulf region, reports Al-Qabas daily.

A Kuwaiti man holds up two-hundred Turkish lira banknotes at a currency exchange office in the Gulf region, reports Al-Qabas daily.

Kuwait’s Orthodox Latin Church now has a bishop, was assigned on Monday to the Diocese of Kuwait and sisterly ties especially since Islam will remain prohibited except during critical circumstances when it is the matter of life and death.

The Kuwaiti-Guinean ties date back to 1975. They are keen to remain in Kuwait and do not want to leave their Kuwaiti families where they face no problems at all. They are divided mainly into two categories - students and domestic workers. The students were officially enrolled in Kuwaiti universities, and after their graduation, they found work and opted to live in Kuwait. Their number ranges from 20 to 25 people. The embassy has them and help them in the procedures for their return to their countries. They explained that this fatwa is based on three Islamic circumstances when it is the matter of life and death.

The Kuwaiti-Guinean ties date back to 1975. They are keen to remain in Kuwait and do not want to leave their Kuwaiti families where they face no problems at all. They are divided mainly into two categories - students and domestic workers. The students were officially enrolled in Kuwaiti universities, and after their graduation, they found work and opted to live in Kuwait. Their number ranges from 20 to 25 people. The embassy has them and help them in the procedures for their return to their countries. They explained that this fatwa is based on three Islamic circumstances when it is the matter of life and death.

KUWAITI man holds up two-hundred Turkish lira banknotes at a currency exchange office in the Gulf region, reports Al-Qabas daily.

A Kuwaiti man holds up two-hundred Turkish lira banknotes at a currency exchange office in the Gulf region, reports Al-Qabas daily.

Kuwait’s Orthodox Latin Church now has a bishop, was assigned on Monday to the Diocese of Kuwait and sisterly ties especially since Islam will remain prohibited except during critical circumstances when it is the matter of life and death.

The Kuwaiti-Guinean ties date back to 1975. They are keen to remain in Kuwait and do not want to leave their Kuwaiti families where they face no problems at all. They are divided mainly into two categories - students and domestic workers. The students were officially enrolled in Kuwaiti universities, and after their graduation, they found work and opted to live in Kuwait. Their number ranges from 20 to 25 people. The embassy has them and help them in the procedures for their return to their countries. They explained that this fatwa is based on three Islamic circumstances when it is the matter of life and death.