MORRISTOWN, Ariz, May 22, (Agencies): Grumpy Cat, whose sourpuss expression entertained millions on the internet and spawned hundreds of memes, national television commercials and even a movie, died at age 7.

Her owners posted on social media that she experienced complications from a urinary tract infection. "She passed away peacefully on the morning of Tuesday, May 14, at home in the arms of her mommy, Tabatha," they wrote.

"Grumpy Cat has helped millions of people smile all around the world - even when times were tough," her owners said. The cat's real name was Tardar Sauce and the owners were never sure what her breed was. Her website said her grumpy look was likely because she had a form of feline dwarfism. They said despite her face, she is cuddly and loved to be held and rubbed. She rose to fame after her photos were posted on Reddit in 2012. Her owners said it was suggested the photo was a fake, so they posted a few videos to prove otherwise.

Since then, Grumpy Cat made appearances on "Good Morning America", "CBS Evening News", even "American Idol" and "The Bachelorette". She's done television commercials for Honey Nut Cheerios and took photos with hundreds of fans at South by Southwest.

Five kittens that stowed away on a 400-mile trip to San Diego are looking for new homes.

The San Diego Humane Society says the kittens somehow wound up inside a 60-foot steel column that was trucked from Hayward in the San Francisco Bay Area to San Diego.

On April 24, construction workers building new Kaiser Permanente medical offices heard meows coming from the column.

They tilted the column and the week-old kittens slid out. It's unclear whether the stowaways came aboard in Hayward or somewhere along the route.

The kittens are now in foster care and will be ready for adoption in another couple of months.

And they've been given appropriate construction names: Crowbar, Rebar, Chisel, Jackhammer and Piper.

A kitten that was found encased in hardened spray foam is expected to make a full recovery after being rescued from a garbage can by an Oregon sanitation worker, authorities have said.

The sanitation worker was using a hydraulic arm to empty a trash can near Hillsboro, Oregon, but the can wouldn't empty, said Washington County sheriff's Deputy Brian van Kleeef.

The man peered inside and saw the kitten hanging from the can upside down by its back legs, he said. Its head and paws were covered in hard, white foam but it managed to meow, van Kleeef said.

Kuwait Bus Routes and Numbers

The following are Kuwait bus routes and corresponding numbers. All routes, bus numbers and stops are the same with all bus companies (City Bus, KPTC and KGL). Bus schedule is between 4:20 am and 10:25 pm, except for buses X1, X2, X3 and X4 which run 24 hours. Ramadan bus timings: (First trip starts around 4 am, Last trip 12:33 am)
