KUWAIT CITY, Oct 15: Citing humanitarian considerations, MP Mohammed Al-Mebaraki submitted an explanation during Monday’s plenary session at the National Assembly to propose a grilling of the Ministry of Interior for its handling of the influx of refugees in northeast Syria, or “begin letting them in again”. It’s worth noting that Article 27 of the Constitution clearly stipulates “Justice, Liberty, and Equality are the pillars of the society, morality, and patriotism.”

The interpellation includes two main points: a) to prevent the continued granting of visas without taking into consideration the financial situation specifically addressed the financial status, and relation of their husbands to the enforcement of courts’ verdicts and punishments; b) to demand that the justice institution not be a tool to help in the facilitation of any verdict in favor of or against the minister. The minister himself has not been kept in the dark at all times, and they will take necessary measures to return to the stable condition that was achieved.

The request was received by the Acting National Assembly Speaker Mohamed Al-Hashim, whose term which is scheduled to take place on October 27.

The request was received by the Acting National Assembly Speaker Mohamed Al-Hashim, whose term which is scheduled to take place on October 27.

The interpellation includes two main points: a) to prevent the continued granting of visas without taking into consideration the financial situation specifically addressed the financial status, and relation of their husbands to the enforcement of courts’ verdicts and punishments; b) to demand that the justice institution not be a tool to help in the facilitation of any verdict in favor of or against the minister. The minister himself has not been kept in the dark at all times, and they will take necessary measures to return to the stable condition that was achieved.

The request was received by the Acting National Assembly Speaker Mohamed Al-Hashim, whose term which is scheduled to take place on October 27.

The interpellation includes two main points: a) to prevent the continued granting of visas without taking into consideration the financial situation specifically addressed the financial status, and relation of their husbands to the enforcement of courts’ verdicts and punishments; b) to demand that the justice institution not be a tool to help in the facilitation of any verdict in favor of or against the minister. The minister himself has not been kept in the dark at all times, and they will take necessary measures to return to the stable condition that was achieved.