Alternatives sought

KUWAIT CITY, July 12: At a time when the Ministry of Higher Education were gearing up to attend an important session on the implementation of the US Immigration Department’s decision to suspend US immigration to most students in terms that are not favorable to the students, another student is moving toward defacing the latest of the foreign scholarship plans for next academic year, reportedly.

The daily quoting a source said this initiative is expected to become a culmination of the spirit of corruptions and the Ministry’s recommendation not to travel and the recommendation for academic students to travel across the United States to universities. The Ministry plans to meet with representatives of the Ministry of Education and Higher Education to coordinate the procedures of the project, the sources added.

The ministry is also heading a meeting at the Ministry of Education and Higher Education with representatives of educational institutions and universities, especially after the academic season this year was the worst in the history of the Middle East countries, as the Ministry’s higher education institutions and universities were closed for most of the semester due to the coronavirus. The sources indicated that expectations also increased during the government’s annual summer vacation. The Ministry’s higher education institutions and universities were closed for most of the semester due to the coronavirus.
KUWAIT CITY, July 12: India is closely following up the recent developments in demographics in Kuwait, after the National Assembly’s Legislative Committee approved the initial bill and seeks to gradually reduce the number of expatriates entering the country, reports Al-Qabas daily.

Indian Foreign Ministry spokesman Aruna Shrivastava revealed in a statement quoted by the Indian newspaper, Livemint, about the discussion of this issue between the two countries, that the Indian government is following up the Kuwaiti legislation to reduce the number of Indians entering Kuwait during a recent phone conversation.

The classification of Indian labor according to the Indian Ministry of External Affairs has revealed that the number of Indians employed in Kuwait in 2015, which was 58,000, represents about 5,000 Indians, while expatriates represent the largest foreign community in Kuwait.

The Kuwaiti National Assembly decided, according to the newspaper, about 800,000 Indians may have to leave Kuwait if the Kuwaiti Parliament passes the bill.

The Legal and Legislative Committee of the Kuwaiti National Assembly decided that the draft law on the quotas of expatriates is constitutional.

One million Kuwaitis, which constitutes the largest foreign community in the country with a population of 4.3 million, in a recent survey, named expatriates as the greatest threat to them, while 10 percent of them, while expatriates represent the largest foreign community in Kuwait.

The classification of Indian labor according to the Indian Ministry of External Affairs has revealed that the number of Indians employed in Kuwait in 2015, which was 58,000, represents about 5,000 Indians, while expatriates represent the largest foreign community in Kuwait.

The Kuwaiti National Assembly decided, according to the newspaper, about 800,000 Indians may have to leave Kuwait if the Kuwaiti Parliament passes the bill.

The Legal and Legislative Committee of the Kuwaiti National Assembly decided that the draft law on the quotas of expatriates is constitutional.

One million Kuwaitis, which constitutes the largest foreign community in the country with a population of 4.3 million, in a recent survey, named expatriates as the greatest threat to them, while 10 percent of them, while expatriates represent the largest foreign community in Kuwait.

The classification of Indian labor according to the Indian Ministry of External Affairs has revealed that the number of Indians employed in Kuwait in 2015, which was 58,000, represents about 5,000 Indians, while expatriates represent the largest foreign community in Kuwait.

The Kuwaiti National Assembly decided, according to the newspaper, about 800,000 Indians may have to leave Kuwait if the Kuwaiti Parliament passes the bill.

The Legal and Legislative Committee of the Kuwaiti National Assembly decided that the draft law on the quotas of expatriates is constitutional.

One million Kuwaitis, which constitutes the largest foreign community in the country with a population of 4.3 million, in a recent survey, named expatriates as the greatest threat to them, while 10 percent of them, while expatriates represent the largest foreign community in Kuwait.
‘Hopes lie in bold measures to end seven-year water crisis’

KUWAIT CITY, July 12: The scalds that are related to the file of the ‘Malaysian Fund’ fraud never ended with the formation of the Public Prosecution investigations commission and the 12-hour marathon investigation which was resumed today (Sunday) (with the three accused), Sheikh Sabah Al-Moharab, Hamad Al-Wazzan, and attorney Saad Abdul Mohsen, reports Al-Qa’ab daily.

A source familiar with Al-Qa’ab daily revealed there is another ‘layer’ that has joined the list of suspects in the Public Prosecution investigations commission, and it is about money laundering get deeper.

The source has also informed the Public Prosecution investigations commission looks at the inflated bank accounts of the main suspect, for the money went was paid to an international company in Malaysia worth 300 million dinars, which were spent on a large number of things used to make the company owner compliant and abolish the possibility of prosecution.

The source added that the investigation is also looking for other things in the inflation of the accounts of the main suspect.

The source also pointed out that the same dos with the other cases, and the Public Prosecution investigations commission and the Public Prosecution’s Office is currently working on the case that has been opened for Friday prayers under the supervision of Sheikh Sabah Al-Mubarak, the current president of the African Union.

Sheikh Sabah Al-Mubarak, during the meeting held with the leaders of the three states, pointed out the importance of a comprehensive culture and development of the Renaissance Dam in the technical and legal aspects and set rules for filling it in the coming years until 2026, and the light that has been exposed by the excavating co-sponsorship.

The source also added that the three countries are continuing their preparations for the construction of the Renaissance Dam in the technical and legal aspects and that which is expected to be completed in Cairo about its water security.

“On the other hand, the Sudanese Ministry of Irrigation and Water Resources stressed that the government has continued to work on the Renaissance Dam for both countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries.

The source also added that the Sudanese Ministry of Irrigation and Water Resources stressed that the government has continued to work on the Renaissance Dam for both countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries.

The source also added that the Sudanese Ministry of Irrigation and Water Resources stressed that the government has continued to work on the Renaissance Dam for both countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries.

The source also added that the Sudanese Ministry of Irrigation and Water Resources stressed that the government has continued to work on the Renaissance Dam for both countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries.

The source also added that the Sudanese Ministry of Irrigation and Water Resources stressed that the government has continued to work on the Renaissance Dam for both countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries.

The source also added that the Sudanese Ministry of Irrigation and Water Resources stressed that the government has continued to work on the Renaissance Dam for both countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries.

The source also added that the Sudanese Ministry of Irrigation and Water Resources stressed that the government has continued to work on the Renaissance Dam for both countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries.

The source also added that the Sudanese Ministry of Irrigation and Water Resources stressed that the government has continued to work on the Renaissance Dam for both countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries.

The source also added that the Sudanese Ministry of Irrigation and Water Resources stressed that the government has continued to work on the Renaissance Dam for both countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries.

The source also added that the Sudanese Ministry of Irrigation and Water Resources stressed that the government has continued to work on the Renaissance Dam for both countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries.

The source also added that the Sudanese Ministry of Irrigation and Water Resources stressed that the government has continued to work on the Renaissance Dam for both countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries.

The source also added that the Sudanese Ministry of Irrigation and Water Resources stressed that the government has continued to work on the Renaissance Dam for both countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries.

The source also added that the Sudanese Ministry of Irrigation and Water Resources stressed that the government has continued to work on the Renaissance Dam for both countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries, and sponsored by South Africa, as a result of the agreement signed between the three countries.
KUWAIT CITY, July 12: The Environment Public Authority (EPA) announced the phenomenon of fish death in the coastal areas in the Sulaibikhat and Mubarak areas. EPA Director General for Social Affairs, Dr工作岗位Reserved for...
Kuwaiti acquitted in fraud case

Verdict changed as Appeals Court finds citizen not guilty of extortion

KUWAIT CITY, July 12: The Court of Appeals overturned the verdict of a lower court and released a Kuwaiti man who did not face the maximum sentence of four years in prison.

The Criminal Court had found the defendant guilty of fraud and, on February 24, sentenced him to four years in prison.

The defendant was appealing the court's decision to the Court of Appeals, and appealed the lower court's decision to the Court of First Instance.

The Public Prosecution Office had found the defendant guilty of fraud and sent the case to the Court of First Instance. The Public Prosecution Office had found the defendant guilty of requesting a written request from the woman and that the court ordered him to pay 500 dinars ($1,284) and to stop and pursue the work of the victim.

The child said that the woman/contributed to the child's work, but the defendant did not mention it. The victim said that the defendant did not have a job and that the work of the victim was not related to the case.

Pay 02 dinars damages: The Court of Appeals overturned the lower court's decision and released the defendant on bail. The defendant had requested the release of the defendant, but the victim did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

KUWAIT CITY, July 12: Indian dies in mishap: Two men died in a garage following a road accident on the Sixth Ring Road, reports Al-Rai daily.

One of the men was an Indian, who ended his life by jumping from a bridge.

The Criminal Court had found the defendant guilty of fraud and requested him to pay 500 dinars ($1,284) and to stop and pursue the work of the victim.

The defendant said that the victim/contributed to the victim's work, but that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.

The defendant received a notification about the outbreak of the pandemic from the Kuwaiti Fire and Rescue Services Directorate (KFSD) Brigadier, the Public Relations Department in the Kuwait Fire and Rescue Services Directorate.

The defendant had paid the victim 500 dinars ($1,284) and that he did not agree to it.
ANKARA, Turkey, July 11, (AP): The president of Turkey on Friday formally converted Istanbul's iconic Byzantine-era Hagia Sophia back into a mosque, making a long-awaited move that outraged Western allies and others who saw it as a symbol of Erdogan'sdrive to reassert Turkey’s Islamic roots.

Erdogan had spoken in favor of turning the hugely symbolic UNESCO World Heritage site back into a mosque despite widespread international criticism, including from U.S. and Orthodox Christian leaders, who viewed the move as an affront to Hagia Sophia’s ecumenical character.

"It is a decision that offends all those who recognize Hagia Sophia as an indispensable part of world culture," the Turkish Foreign Minister said.

The move threatens to deepen tensions with neighboring Greece, whose prime minister, Kyriakos Mitsotakis, condemned the decision as an affront to Hagia Sophia’s ecumenical character.

"It is a decision that offends all those who recognize Hagia Sophia as an indispensable part of world culture," the Turkish Foreign Minister said.

The debate hits at the heart of Turkey’s religious-secular divide. Nationalist and conservative groups in Turkey support Erdogan’s moves to reassert the Turkish nation’s Islamic roots, including turning Hagia Sophia into a mosque.

"I underline that we will open Hagia Sophia to worship as a mosque by preserving its character of religious autonomy," Erdogan said in his speech.

"Like all of our other mosques, the doors of Hagia Sophia will be open to all, locals or foreigners, Muslims and non-Muslims," Erdogan said.

"I was not surprised at all that the court weighed to sanction Erdogan’s moves because these days Erdogan goes from battle with the left to battle with the right," said Cagaptay, a senior fellow at the Washington Institute for Near East Policy.

"Erdogan wants to close Hagia Sophia’s conversion issue in all the right red lid," said Cagaptay, the author of “Erdogan’s Empire.” “But I think this strategy will backfire. I think that Erdogan’s actions will lose him credibility.

"There is still chance to save Hagia Sophia as a museum to serve as a bridge between faiths and cultures. His comments and moves to turn Hagia Sophia into a mosque are a slap at Turkey’s international obligations," tweeted Foreign Minister Nikos Christodoulides.

"Turning it into a mosque will not do anything for the Muslim world. It does not bring nations together, but on the contrary brings them into collision," he said.

The decision sparked deep dismay among Orthodox Christians. Originally a cathedral, Hagia Sophia was turned into a mosque after Sultan Suleiman conquered the Byzantine capital in 1552. It was converted into a museum in 1934 by the founder of modern Turkey, Mustafa Kemal Ataturk, and has been one of the world’s most visited tourist sites for almost a century.

The debate was framed at the heart of Turkey’s religious-secular divide, where conservative groups want to reassert Turkey’s Islamic roots and turn Hagia Sophia into a mosque. Opponents say the move is a symbol of Erdogan’s and Muharrem’s secularism.

"It was a structure that brought together both Byzantine and Ottoman histories," said Zeynep Kizildag, a 27-year-old social worker, who did not support the conversion. "The decision to turn it into a mosque is like erasing 1,000 years of history, in my opinion."

"The decision to convert Hagia Sophia into a mosque by preserving its character of religious autonomy," Erdogan said.

"Like all of our other mosques, the doors of Hagia Sophia will be open to all, locals or foreigners, Muslims and non-Muslims," Erdogan said.

"I was not surprised at all that the court weighed to sanction Erdogan’s moves because these days Erdogan goes from battle with the left to battle with the right," said Cagaptay, a senior fellow at the Washington Institute for Near East Policy.

"Erdogan wants to close Hagia Sophia’s conversion issue in all the right red lid," said Cagaptay, the author of “Erdogan’s Empire.” “But I think this strategy will backfire. I think that Erdogan’s actions will lose him credibility.

"There is still chance to save Hagia Sophia as a museum to serve as a bridge between faiths and cultures. His comments and moves to turn Hagia Sophia into a mosque are a slap at Turkey’s international obligations," tweeted Foreign Minister Nikos Christodoulides.

"Turning it into a mosque will not do anything for the Muslim world. It does not bring nations together, but on the contrary brings them into collision," he said.

The decision sparked deep dismay among Orthodox Christians. Originally a cathedral, Hagia Sophia was turned into a mosque after Sultan Suleiman conquered the Byzantine capital in 1552. It was converted into a museum in 1934 by the founder of modern Turkey, Mustafa Kemal Ataturk, and has been one of the world’s most visited tourist sites for almost a century.

The debate was framed at the heart of Turkey’s religious-secular divide, where conservative groups want to reassert Turkey’s Islamic roots and turn Hagia Sophia into a mosque. Opponents say the move is a symbol of Erdogan’s and Muharrem’s secularism.

"It was a structure that brought together both Byzantine and Ottoman histories," said Zeynep Kizildag, a 27-year-old social worker, who did not support the conversion. "The decision to turn it into a mosque is like erasing 1,000 years of history, in my opinion."

"The decision to convert Hagia Sophia into a mosque by preserving its character of religious autonomy," Erdogan said.

"Like all of our other mosques, the doors of Hagia Sophia will be open to all, locals or foreigners, Muslims and non-Muslims," Erdogan said.

"I was not surprised at all that the court weighed to sanction Erdogan’s moves because these days Erdogan goes from battle with the left to battle with the right," said Cagaptay, a senior fellow at the Washington Institute for Near East Policy.

"Erdogan wants to close Hagia Sophia’s conversion issue in all the right red lid," said Cagaptay, the author of “Erdogan’s Empire.” “But I think this strategy will backfire. I think that Erdogan’s actions will lose him credibility.

"There is still chance to save Hagia Sophia as a museum to serve as a bridge between faiths and cultures. His comments and moves to turn Hagia Sophia into a mosque are a slap at Turkey’s international obligations," tweeted Foreign Minister Nikos Christodoulides.

"Turning it into a mosque will not do anything for the Muslim world. It does not bring nations together, but on the contrary brings them into collision," he said.

The decision sparked deep dismay among Orthodox Christians. Originally a cathedral, Hagia Sophia was turned into a mosque after Sultan Suleiman conquered the Byzantine capital in 1552. It was converted into a museum in 1934 by the founder of modern Turkey, Mustafa Kemal Ataturk, and has been one of the world’s most visited tourist sites for almost a century.

The debate was framed at the heart of Turkey’s religious-secular divide, where conservative groups want to reassert Turkey’s Islamic roots and turn Hagia Sophia into a mosque. Opponents say the move is a symbol of Erdogan’s and Muharrem’s secularism.

"It was a structure that brought together both Byzantine and Ottoman histories," said Zeynep Kizildag, a 27-year-old social worker, who did not support the conversion. "The decision to turn it into a mosque is like erasing 1,000 years of history, in my opinion."

"The decision to convert Hagia Sophia into a mosque by preserving its character of religious autonomy," Erdogan said.

"Like all of our other mosques, the doors of Hagia Sophia will be open to all, locals or foreigners, Muslims and non-Muslims," Erdogan said.

"I was not surprised at all that the court weighed to sanction Erdogan’s moves because these days Erdogan goes from battle with the left to battle with the right," said Cagaptay, a senior fellow at the Washington Institute for Near East Policy.

"Erdogan wants to close Hagia Sophia’s conversion issue in all the right red lid," said Cagaptay, the author of “Erdogan’s Empire.” “But I think this strategy will backfire. I think that Erdogan’s actions will lose him credibility.

"There is still chance to save Hagia Sophia as a museum to serve as a bridge between faiths and cultures. His comments and moves to turn Hagia Sophia into a mosque are a slap at Turkey’s international obligations," tweeted Foreign Minister Nikos Christodoulides.

"Turning it into a mosque will not do anything for the Muslim world. It does not bring nations together, but on the contrary brings them into collision," he said.

The decision sparked deep dismay among Orthodox Christians. Originally a cathedral, Hagia Sophia was turned into a mosque after Sultan Suleiman conquered the Byzantine capital in 1552. It was converted into a museum in 1934 by the founder of modern Turkey, Mustafa Kemal Ataturk, and has been one of the world’s most visited tourist sites for almost a century.

The debate was framed at the heart of Turkey’s religious-secular divide, where conservative groups want to reassert Turkey’s Islamic roots and turn Hagia Sophia into a mosque. Opponents say the move is a symbol of Erdogan’s and Muharrem’s secularism.

"It was a structure that brought together both Byzantine and Ottoman histories," said Zeynep Kizildag, a 27-year-old social worker, who did not support the conversion. "The decision to turn it into a mosque is like erasing 1,000 years of history, in my opinion."

"The decision to convert Hagia Sophia into a mosque by preserving its character of religious autonomy," Erdogan said.

"Like all of our other mosques, the doors of Hagia Sophia will be open to all, locals or foreigners, Muslims and non-Muslims," Erdogan said.

"I was not surprised at all that the court weighed to sanction Erdogan’s moves because these days Erdogan goes from battle with the left to battle with the right," said Cagaptay, a senior fellow at the Washington Institute for Near East Policy.

"Erdogan wants to close Hagia Sophia’s conversion issue in all the right red lid," said Cagaptay, the author of “Erdogan’s Empire.” “But I think this strategy will backfire. I think that Erdogan’s actions will lose him credibility.

"There is still chance to save Hagia Sophia as a museum to serve as a bridge between faiths and cultures. His comments and moves to turn Hagia Sophia into a mosque are a slap at Turkey’s international obligations," tweeted Foreign Minister Nikos Christodoulides.

"Turning it into a mosque will not do anything for the Muslim world. It does not bring nations together, but on the contrary brings them into collision," he said.

The decision sparked deep dismay among Orthodox Christians. Originally a cathedral, Hagia Sophia was turned into a mosque after Sultan Suleiman conquered the Byzantine capital in 1552. It was converted into a museum in 1934 by the founder of modern Turkey, Mustafa Kemal Ataturk, and has been one of the world’s most visited tourist sites for almost a century.

The debate was framed at the heart of Turkey’s religious-secular divide, where conservative groups want to reassert Turkey’s Islamic roots and turn Hagia Sophia into a mosque. Opponents say the move is a symbol of Erdogan’s and Muharrem’s secularism.

"It was a structure that brought together both Byzantine and Ottoman histories," said Zeynep Kizildag, a 27-year-old social worker, who did not support the conversion. "The decision to turn it into a mosque is like erasing 1,000 years of history, in my opinion."

"The decision to convert Hagia Sophia into a mosque by preserving its character of religious autonomy," Erdogan said.

"Like all of our other mosques, the doors of Hagia Sophia will be open to all, locals or foreigners, Muslims and non-Muslims," Erdogan said.

"I was not surprised at all that the court weighed to sanction Erdogan’s moves because these days Erdogan goes from battle with the left to battle with the right," said Cagaptay, a senior fellow at the Washington Institute for Near East Policy.

"Erdogan wants to close Hagia Sophia’s conversion issue in all the right red lid," said Cagaptay, the author of “Erdogan’s Empire.” “But I think this strategy will backfire. I think that Erdogan’s actions will lose him credibility.

"There is still chance to save Hagia Sophia as a museum to serve as a bridge between faiths and cultures. His comments and moves to turn Hagia Sophia into a mosque are a slap at Turkey’s international obligations," tweeted Foreign Minister Nikos Christodoulides.
Many factors are amplified for Black families, who often suffer more shame or trauma or having a parent who died by suicide. In 2019, it’s second after accidents. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Suicide is the 10th leading cause of death for people ages 10 to 24, said Sean Joe, an expert on Black suicides at Washing-ton Medical Center in suburban Wash-ington to meet wounded service-mem bers and health care providers who de stroyed the party nominees. (AP)ings, including Vice President Mike Pence and to specific claims that Roger Stone was illegitimate and our motives were improper, Stone told reporters on Saturday. “We did not expect to get away with it.” Mueller wrote that though he had in-vestigated how Stone had not only tampered with a witness but also lied repeatedly about his a witness and convicted because he committed fed-eral crime. Mueller wrote that though he had in-vestigated these crimes, Mueller wrote that though he had in-vestigated these crimes.

Wash-ington, D.C. (AP) — President Donald Trump has commuted the sentence of former Trump campaign chair Paul Manafort, who was convicted of fraud and bank fraud in a case tied to former President Donald Trump’s 2016 presidential campaign. The US Navy has welcomed its fi rst Black female strike pilot, Swegle, to Naval Air Station Meridian, Miss. in 2017. Rodriguez said, adding that the Texas Redhawks of Kansas City, Saturday, July 11, 2020. (AP)ing how Stone had not only tampered with a witness but also lied repeatedly about his

Stone was found guilty last fall of ext ribution to a baseless claim of voter fraud. He was hailed as a hero by the US Navy and was given a hero’s welcome by the Navy’s top commander. He was later indicted on charges of fraud and conspiracy. He was convicted of bank fraud, tax evasion and making false statements.

Stone’s efforts, including his discussions with Trump campaign associates about them, got to the heart of Mueller’s investigation. Whether or not anyone told the US Navy of the potential for a cover-up, Trump had in stalled the person in charge of the investiga- tion, John Bolton, in 2018. Stone was the subject of an investigation by Mueller’s team. The US Attorney to investigate the origin of the Russia probe, and the Justice Department has said the investigation is now complete.

He was due to report to prison.

Stone was found guilty last fall of ext ribution to a baseless claim of voter fraud. He was hailed as a hero by the US Navy and was given a hero’s welcome by the Navy’s top commander. He was later indicted on charges of fraud and conspiracy. He was convicted of bank fraud, tax evasion and making false statements.

Stone’s efforts, including his discussions with Trump campaign associates about them, got to the heart of Mueller’s investigation. Whether or not anyone told the US Navy of the potential for a cover-up, Trump had in stalled the person in charge of the investiga- tion, John Bolton, in 2018. Stone was the subject of an investigation by Mueller’s team. The US Attorney to investigate the origin of the Russia probe, and the Justice Department has said the investigation is now complete.

He was due to report to prison.

Stone was found guilty last fall of ext ribution to a baseless claim of voter fraud. He was hailed as a hero by the US Navy and was given a hero’s welcome by the Navy’s top commander. He was later indicted on charges of fraud and conspiracy. He was convicted of bank fraud, tax evasion and making false statements.

Stone’s efforts, including his discussions with Trump campaign associates about them, got to the heart of Mueller’s investigation. Whether or not anyone told the US Navy of the potential for a cover-up, Trump had in stalled the person in charge of the investiga- tion, John Bolton, in 2018. Stone was the subject of an investigation by Mueller’s team. The US Attorney to investigate the origin of the Russia probe, and the Justice Department has said the investigation is now complete.

He was due to report to prison.

Stone was found guilty last fall of ext ribution to a baseless claim of voter fraud. He was hailed as a hero by the US Navy and was given a hero’s welcome by the Navy’s top commander. He was later indicted on charges of fraud and conspiracy. He was convicted of bank fraud, tax evasion and making false statements.
Under anonymity shield

Meghan tries to avert 5 being named in suit

LONDON, July 12 (AP) - The Duchess of Sussex joined her husband Tuesday in court as she sought to prevent publication of the names of five friends who defined her while writing to an American magazine under the title of shyness. The former actress Parrot Markle made the request in a written statement for her lawsuit against the Daily Mail and its publisher Associated Newspapers, a day after the newspaper published her last. The lawsuit, filed in Britain's High Court, claims the newspaper has threatened to publish the names of five friends who defined her while she was writing to an American magazine under the title of shyness. The lawsuit seeks to prevent publication of the names of five friends who defined her while she was writing to an American magazine under the title of shyness.

For the newspaper, the argument that the duchess’ friends were not at risk, too, and nor is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The newspaper also argues that three of the women are not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ five friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ ve friends were not real, women are not real, and not is the statement said. The publisher of the Mail on Sunday says it has collected unknown and is attempting to erase accountability, social standards and confi dentiality in an attempt to further the duchess’ case. The paper has been subject to criticism for its reporting.

The duchess said in her statement Tuesday that the ﬁ v
American Airlines threatens to cancel all Max orders

American Airlines is threatening Boeing with legal action over the 737 Max unless the plane maker agrees to pay the carrier $1 billion as part of a settlement over theMax's grounding. The carrier is pressuring Boeing to come up with a plan to return the Max to the skies as soon as possible.

The airline said in a letter Tuesday that it will not accept any more 737 Max aircraft unless it reaches a settlement with Boeing that includes a provision for Boeing to pay American $1 billion. The carrier said it wants the plan to be in place by October 1.

American Airlines President and CEO Doug Parker wrote in the letter to Boeing, "without a plan to return the aircraft to service, we cannot continue to accept new 737 Max aircraft." Parker said that American has been working with Boeing "for months now" to develop a return-to-service plan, but nothing has come of it.

The letter was dated July 7, the day before a scheduled meeting between Boeing executives and Parker. Parker wrote that American will not accept any more 737 Max until a return-to-service plan is in place that is "agreed upon and signed by both parties." The carrier has been lease-purchasing 737 Max aircraft from Boeing to replace those grounded after two crashes in 2018 and 2019.

American is one of the last U.S. carriers operating the Max and has taken almost 300 737 Max aircraft in recent years. It has more than 750 737 Max orders with Boeing and a total of 550 aircraft on the order board. American has also received new 737 Max aircraft from other carriers that were purchased or leased by those airlines, but American is the only carrier that is leasing 737 Max aircraft from Boeing.

American is also threatening to cancel all 265 orders for the Max unless Boeing agrees to pay it $1 billion. The carrier said it was pressuring Boeing to reach a deal "as quickly as possible" and that it would "begin legal proceedings" if the two sides cannot come to an agreement. The carrier also said it was working with Boeing "to make sure that the Max is returned to service as soon as possible." American is set to deliver in early 2020.

American competes with Delta Air Lines and United Airlines in key markets. Delta has canceled 150 Max orders and United has canceled 42 Max orders. American is the only carrier that is leasing 737 Max aircraft from Boeing.
A number of GCC corporates are looking to accelerate infrastructure projects, especially in the aftermath of the COVID-19 outspread. The greenback had its first weekly drop in a month while the euro and Sterling had a huge week. The dollar’s rally continued, reaching $1.12 per euro, $1.21 per Sterling and $1.22 per Yen. arab times, Monday, July 13, 2020

The jobs file in June showcased the robustness of the GCC economies despite their firms’ heavy reliance on expatriate employees. GCC governments have lifted their hiring restrictions and allowed the re-entry of expatriates to help firms resume operations and restart sales outside of GCC states. A number of GCC countries have eased their restrictions on expatriate employment, and the workforce is being quickly updated to meet the challenges and opportunities of the new reality. The report on the unemployment rate was recently released by the National Bureau of Statistics (NBS) indicating a decrease of 0.5% in the unemployment rate. Business optimism on a V-shaped recovery fuels risk sentiment

The following is the last part of a Gulf Drive News article on the Gulf of the PPP model in infrastructure. For projects where there is a clear technical and financial framework, the PPP model is expected to provide more attractive and transparent mechanisms for implementing PPP projects. In this way, the PPP model can play a major role in developing and financing projects with a high degree of sustainability and transparency and make more projects viable for execution.

Public Private Partnerships (PPPs)

Public Private Partnership (PPP) models are emerging as the go-to model for investor in private projects, particularly in the GCC. Government is playing an important role in supporting these projects by bringing in their own capital and helping to provide the necessary infrastructure and support to PPP projects.

PPP will be a key tool for the Middle East to draw up a strategy for infrastructure development in light of the current economic situation. The government in the GCC has a critical role to play in the PPP model. The government needs to provide the necessary regulatory framework and policy support to make the PPP model work.

PPPs are expected to face revenue pressure from lower growth and export revenues in a world where COVID-19 has taken its toll on the GCC economies. Some GCC countries have announced lockdowns and restrictions on movement to contain the spread of the virus. This has resulted in a significant decline in consumer consumption.

The government’s objective is to maintain the financial sector will be well supported by PPP participation, as they would ensure the development of new infrastructure projects that are critical for economic growth.

The current phase where the PPP model is required more than ever is in the GCC states. The GCC states are in the process of initiating several PPP projects. The government has announced plans to invest in critical infrastructure projects, such as roads, bridges, and water/wastewater projects. The government needs to be proactive in ensuring that these PPP projects are implemented effectively and efficiently.

For PPP and private partnerships to succeed, there needs to be a clear technical and financial framework. The PPP model is expected to provide more attractive and transparent mechanisms for implementing PPP projects. In this way, the PPP model can play a major role in developing and financing projects with a high degree of sustainability and transparency and make more projects viable for execution.

Bahrain’s PPP Program hunt for partners

The Ministry of Works in Bahrain has launched a PPP program for the construction of the first privately-owned gas-fired power plant in the country. The project will be located in Muharraq and will have a capacity of 600 megawatts. The PPP program is being designed to attract private investors to participate in the construction and operation of the power plant.

The project is expected to create 1,000 jobs and generate $3 million in annual revenue. The government is looking for private partners to invest in the project and provide the necessary capital to finance the construction and operation of the power plant.

The government is hoping that the PPP program will attract private investors and provide the necessary capital to finance the construction and operation of the power plant. The government is also looking for private partners to provide the necessary expertise and knowledge to operate the power plant.

The PPP program is expected to provide a good opportunity for private investors to participate in the construction and operation of the power plant. The government is looking for private partners to invest in the project and provide the necessary capital to finance the construction and operation of the power plant.

The government is also looking for private partners to provide the necessary expertise and knowledge to operate the power plant. The PPP program is expected to provide a good opportunity for private investors to participate in the construction and operation of the power plant. The government is looking for private partners to invest in the project and provide the necessary capital to finance the construction and operation of the power plant.

The government is hoping that the PPP program will attract private investors and provide the necessary capital to finance the construction and operation of the power plant. The government is also looking for private partners to provide the necessary expertise and knowledge to operate the power plant.

The PPP program is expected to provide a good opportunity for private investors to participate in the construction and operation of the power plant. The government is looking for private partners to invest in the project and provide the necessary capital to finance the construction and operation of the power plant.
Chris Ruddy

The US economy is stumbling as the viral outbreak intensifies, threatening to slow hiring and deepening the pullback in spending that has already weighed on growth, economists warn.

Economists now see risks of a recession as some states are returning to lockdowns, and consumer spending is being hit by rising unemployment, a相符的，the reporting of the Senate Commerce, Science, and Transportation Committee, which he chairs.

Many CEOs abandon their forecasts for Q2 results amid uncertainty

Many CEOs abandon their forecasts for second-quarter results. United States, United Kingdom. Bed Bath & Beyond said it will close 200 stores, and Kohl's said it will eliminate 700 corporate jobs. David Gilbertson, a vice president at Kronos, said this is mostly under control, but where reopening steps have been reversed, “This suggests that renewed fears about the virus, rather than government restrictions, are driving the pullback in activity,” he said.

Credit card data from both Bank of America and J.P. Morgan Chase show that spending has slipped in the past two weeks, even in states that don’t face sharp outbreaks. The total number of people receiving jobless benefits fell 362,000 to 1.4 million last week. Some economists have even warned that a so-called “double dip” recession is possible.

The推理认为jobless claims for the week in Arizona, Florida, California, and Texas, which weighed most heavily on the national figures, are falling in concert, suggesting that hiring may be strengthening. More than 1.3 million people applied for jobless benefits the first week of May, according to the Labor Department. That’s down from 4.4 million a year ago, when the economy was still blooming.

In Florida, traffic was down 57%, compared with 45% two weeks earlier, according to data from reservation app OpenTable. In California, traffic was down 64%, compared with a year ago. In Arizona, restaurants traffic was down 59% from a year ago. In Florida, restaurants were down 57% in the same time period.

Many small businesses are濒危, either under government orders to close or because of a lack of customers, according to preliminary data. The Labor Department reported that jobless claims also declined in Michigan and Colorado.

In Florida, traffic was down 57%, compared with 45% two weeks earlier, according to data from reservation app OpenTable. In California, traffic was down 64%, compared with a year ago. In Arizona, restaurants traffic was down 59% from a year ago. In Florida, restaurants were down 57% in the same time period.

The total number of people receiving jobless benefits fell 362,000 to 1.4 million last week. Some economists have even warned that a so-called “double dip” recession is possible.

Credit card data from both Bank of America and J.P. Morgan Chase show that spending has slipped in the past two weeks, even in states that don’t face sharp outbreaks. The total number of people receiving jobless benefits fell 362,000 to 1.4 million last week. Some economists have even warned that a so-called “double dip” recession is possible.

The推理认为jobless claims for the week in Arizona, Florida, California, and Texas, which weighed most heavily on the national figures, are falling in concert, suggesting that hiring may be strengthening. More than 1.3 million people applied for jobless benefits the first week of May, according to the Labor Department. That’s down from 4.4 million a year ago, when the economy was still blooming.

In Florida, traffic was down 57%, compared with 45% two weeks earlier, according to data from reservation app OpenTable. In California, traffic was down 64%, compared with a year ago. In Arizona, restaurants traffic was down 59% from a year ago. In Florida, restaurants were down 57% in the same time period.

Many small businesses are濒危, either under government orders to close or because of a lack of customers, according to preliminary data. The Labor Department reported that jobless claims also declined in Michigan and Colorado.

In Florida, traffic was down 57%, compared with 45% two weeks earlier, according to data from reservation app OpenTable. In California, traffic was down 64%, compared with a year ago. In Arizona, restaurants traffic was down 59% from a year ago. In Florida, restaurants were down 57% in the same time period.

The total number of people receiving jobless benefits fell 362,000 to 1.4 million last week. Some economists have even warned that a so-called “double dip” recession is possible.

Credit card data from both Bank of America and J.P. Morgan Chase show that spending has slipped in the past two weeks, even in states that don’t face sharp outbreaks. The total number of people receiving jobless benefits fell 362,000 to 1.4 million last week. Some economists have even warned that a so-called “double dip” recession is possible.

The推理认为jobless claims for the week in Arizona, Florida, California, and Texas, which weighed most heavily on the national figures, are falling in concert, suggesting that hiring may be strengthening. More than 1.3 million people applied for jobless benefits the first week of May, according to the Labor Department. That’s down from 4.4 million a year ago, when the economy was still blooming.

In Florida, traffic was down 57%, compared with 45% two weeks earlier, according to data from reservation app OpenTable. In California, traffic was down 64%, compared with a year ago. In Arizona, restaurants traffic was down 59% from a year ago. In Florida, restaurants were down 57% in the same time period.

Many small businesses are濒危, either under government orders to close or because of a lack of customers, according to preliminary data. The Labor Department reported that jobless claims also declined in Michigan and Colorado.

The推理认为jobless claims for the week in Arizona, Florida, California, and Texas, which weighed most heavily on the national figures, are falling in concert, suggesting that hiring may be strengthening. More than 1.3 million people applied for jobless benefits the first week of May, according to the Labor Department. That’s down from 4.4 million a year ago, when the economy was still blooming.

In Florida, traffic was down 57%, compared with 45% two weeks earlier, according to data from reservation app OpenTable. In California, traffic was down 64%, compared with a year ago. In Arizona, restaurants traffic was down 59% from a year ago. In Florida, restaurants were down 57% in the same time period.

Many small businesses are濒危, either under government orders to close or because of a lack of customers, according to preliminary data. The Labor Department reported that jobless claims also declined in Michigan and Colorado.

The推理认为jobless claims for the week in Arizona, Florida, California, and Texas, which weighed most heavily on the national figures, are falling in concert, suggesting that hiring may be strengthening. More than 1.3 million people applied for jobless benefits the first week of May, according to the Labor Department. That’s down from 4.4 million a year ago, when the economy was still blooming.

In Florida, traffic was down 57%, compared with 45% two weeks earlier, according to data from reservation app OpenTable. In California, traffic was down 64%, compared with a year ago. In Arizona, restaurants traffic was down 59% from a year ago. In Florida, restaurants were down 57% in the same time period.

Many small businesses are濒危, either under government orders to close or because of a lack of customers, according to preliminary data. The Labor Department reported that jobless claims also declined in Michigan and Colorado.

The推理认为jobless claims for the week in Arizona, Florida, California, and Texas, which weighed most heavily on the national figures, are falling in concert, suggesting that hiring may be strengthening. More than 1.3 million people applied for jobless benefits the first week of May, according to the Labor Department. That’s down from 4.4 million a year ago, when the economy was still blooming.
The UK’s Sunak warns of depth of recession

London, July 12, (AP): The UK’s Treasury chief has warned that Europe faces its worst economic downturn as falling renewable energy prices and continuing industrial de-carbonisation make it too expensive to maintain old fossil fuel plants.

The government hopes employers will help get the country back on track during a press conference in Brussels on Wednesday.

They need to switch off the fiscalistrator and to think about plans in Saudi Arabia. The European Commission in a press release, featured a letter from Muzaini Exchange that referred to the announcement of at least 6 gigawatts of renewable hydrogen electrolyser in the EU, and the projection of up to one million tonnes of renewable hydrogen.

“From 2025 to 2030, hydrogen needs to become an intrinsic part of our integrated energy system, with at least 40 gigawatts of renewable hydrogen electrolyser and the production of up to 10 million tonnes of renewable hydrogen in the EU,” he said.

“We want to stay ahead because the cost of the world is quickly catching up,” he said and referred to the announcement of new energy facilities being put in Saudi Arabia. On her part, EU Commissioner for Energy Kadri Simson told the joint press conference in Brussels on Wednesday that the EU’s greenhouses gas emissions targets have to be met. “We need a paradigm shift to reach our 2020 and 2030 targets.”

“Hydrogen will play a key role in this, as falling renewable energy prices and continued industrial decarbonisation make it viable,” she added.

EU presents plans for future energy system

BRUSSELS, July 12, (KUNAS): The European Union Wednesday presented two energy strategy announcements at a joint press conference in Brussels on Wednesday, to take the helm of the EU’s energy sector.

The European Union has warned that Europe faces its worst economic downturn as falling renewable energy prices and continuing industrial de-carbonisation make it too expensive to maintain old fossil fuel plants.

The government hopes employers will help get the country back on track during a press conference in Brussels on Wednesday.

The European Commission in a press release, featured a letter from Muzaini Exchange that referred to the announcement of at least 6 gigawatts of renewable hydrogen electrolyser in the EU, and the projection of up to one million tonnes of renewable hydrogen.

“From 2025 to 2030, hydrogen needs to become an intrinsic part of our integrated energy system, with at least 40 gigawatts of renewable hydrogen electrolyser and the production of up to 10 million tonnes of renewable hydrogen in the EU,” he said.

“We want to stay ahead because the cost of the world is quickly catching up,” he said and referred to the announcement of new energy facilities being put in Saudi Arabia. On her part, EU Commissioner for Energy Kadri Simson told the joint press conference in Brussels on Wednesday that the EU’s greenhouses gas emissions targets have to be met. “We need a paradigm shift to reach our 2020 and 2030 targets.”

“Hydrogen will play a key role in this, as falling renewable energy prices and continued industrial decarbonisation make it viable,” she added.
Health

WHO experts visit China

Dengue prevention stifled by pandemic

JAKARTA, Indonesia, July 12 (AP) — The spread of the coronavirus, prominent social issues and a massive national holidays have left millions of people at home, with crowded hospitals that affect services like dengue fever treatment. The virus is also spreading in southern China.

No new cases of COVID-19 were recorded in China on Sunday, and the cumulative number of cases in the country stood at 86,000. However, a number of new cases have been reported in recent days in other parts of the country.

On Monday, health authorities in the southern Chinese province of Guangdong announced that it had detected two new cases of COVID-19 in Hong Kong, where the virus has been spreading rapidly.

In the coming days, authorities will be focusing on implementing measures to control the spread of COVID-19, such as limiting gatherings and implementing strict quarantine measures.

Dengue typically isn't fatal, but severe cases can be life-threatening. Dengue fever prevention efforts targeted at destroying mosquito-breeding sites, like removing stagnant water, have been successful in some areas.

Scientists believe the virus may have originated in bats and spread to humans through contact with infected mosquitoes.

Disruption

Experts say that disrupting prevention efforts is crucial in order to control the global epidemic. The number of cases has been on the rise in recent weeks.

Since the beginning of the pandemic, the World Health Organization has recommended stringent measures to control the spread of COVID-19, including the closure of borders and the implementation of social distancing measures.

Scientists have warned that the pandemic is far from over and that the number of cases could increase significantly in the coming months.

Though the virus has caused significant disruption, there are also positive developments. For example, the global research into COVID-19 is now focused on developing vaccines and treatments that could potentially help control the spread of the disease.

In conclusion, the COVID-19 pandemic has had a significant impact on the world, disrupting daily life and affecting the global economy. However, with the implementation of stringent measures and continued research, there is hope that the pandemic can eventually be controlled.
American Asian saw pivotal icon in "Baby-Sitters Club"

By Perry Tang

After Ann M. Martin had made the move when they decided to make one of the core members of the Baby-Sitters Club: A Japanese American girl named Claudia. Claudia Kishi happens to be the character that 13-year-old Momona Tamada plays in the series "The Baby-Sitters Club" currently playing on Netflix.

Martin decided to make one of the core members of the Baby-Sitters Club: A Japanese American girl named Claudia. Claudia Kishi happens to be the character that 13-year-old Momona Tamada plays in the series "The Baby-Sitters Club" currently playing on Netflix.

The Baby-Sitters Club series follows five girls as they form their own babysitting service to help kids in their community. Claudia is only one of two Asian American characters in the entire series, which is a significant milestone for Asian American representation in children's media.

Martin said in an interview, "I knew Claudia was going to be a little different from the other girls, and I wanted to make sure that she was represented accurately. She's a smart, confident, and ambitious girl who's not afraid to stand up for herself."

Martin also wanted to make sure that Claudia's background and experiences were accurately portrayed. She said, "Claudia's family is very important to her, and I wanted to make sure that was shown in the series. She has a close relationship with her grandmother, and they share a lot of cultural traditions that are important to her."

In the series, Claudia is shown to have a passion for activism and social justice. She is a member of a club called "The BSC" that focuses on issues such as gender equality and environmental conservation. Claudia's character has been praised for her leadership skills and her ability to inspire others to take action.

The Baby-Sitters Club series features Claudia as a confident and strong-willed character who is not afraid to speak up for what she believes in. Her representation as a strong Asian American character in children's media is a step towards increased representation and diversity in children's programming.

Martin said, "I'm proud of the work that we've done to make sure that Claudia is a strong and positive role model for young Asian American girls. I hope that other writers and creators will follow in our footsteps and continue to include diverse characters in children's media."

Claudia Kishi is an important character in the Baby-Sitters Club series, and her representation in the series is a significant milestone for Asian American representation in children's media.
People & Places

Music

Family revises Marley classic for COVID relief

NEW YORK, July 12, 2020 (AP) — Bob Marley's Grammy-winning, charismatic, chart-topping reggae group — and the voice of a generation that fought for justice — has recorded a new version of his iconic song "One Love" to benefit UNICEF's global campaign for the COVID-19 pandemic.

The song, called "One Love: Reimagined," was recorded last summer by the Bob Marley & the Wailers Family. Cedella Marley said she's happy to see her son keep his father's legacy alive.

In the Aug. 21, 2020 file photo, Bob Marley and the Wailers Family perform during the last show of "One Love Tour" at the Montreal Forum in Montreal. (AP Photo/CharlesPLavalle)

"It's a very important statement to my family," said Marley, a 62-year-old eight-time Grammy winner. "It's not just about the music. It's about the message, the impact of the music. It's about being part of something bigger than ourselves."

The song features special guests including Earth, Wind & Fire's Verdine White and Charlie Daniels.

Daniels, a country music icon, said he was inspired to join the project after hearing Marley's original song.

"I've been a big fan of Bob Marley since I was a little kid," Daniels said. "And when Skip Marley reached out and asked if I would be a part of this, I said yes.

"This song means so much to me. It's always been a staple of Southern rock with my band and with Charlie Daniels. We wanted to honor it.

Variety

Bachchan, 3 family members test positive

NEW DELHI, July 12, 2020 (AP) — Bollywood superstar Amitabh Bachchan, his son and two other family members have tested positive for COVID-19, according to a statement released by the actor's publicist.

The statement said that Bachchan, his son Abhishek and daughter-in-law Aishwarya have undergone a rapid antigen test at a hospital on July 11. All three tested positive.

"The entire Bachchan family is in isolation and doing well," the statement said.

The elder Bachchan has acted in more than 1,000 Hindi films and is known for his roles in films such as "Zanjeer," or "The Chain," and "Deewar," or "The Klaxon." He was given a star-studded salute by the film industry in 2015.

News/Features

"One Love" re-imagined

Family revises Marley classic for COVID relief

NEW YORK, July 12, 2020 (AP) — Bob Marley's Grammy-winning, charismatic, chart-topping reggae group — and the voice of a generation that fought for justice — has recorded a new version of his iconic song "One Love" to benefit UNICEF's global campaign for the COVID-19 pandemic.

The song, called "One Love: Reimagined," was recorded last summer by the Bob Marley & the Wailers Family. Cedella Marley said she's happy to see her son keep his father's legacy alive.

In the Aug. 21, 2020 file photo, Bob Marley and the Wailers Family perform during the last show of "One Love Tour" at the Montreal Forum in Montreal. (AP Photo/CharlesPLavalle)

"It's a very important statement to my family," said Marley, a 62-year-old eight-time Grammy winner. "It's not just about the music. It's about the message, the impact of the music. It's about being part of something bigger than ourselves."

The song features special guests including Earth, Wind & Fire's Verdine White and Charlie Daniels.

Daniels, a country music icon, said he was inspired to join the project after hearing Marley's original song.

"I've been a big fan of Bob Marley since I was a little kid," Daniels said. "And when Skip Marley reached out and asked if I would be a part of this, I said yes.

"This song means so much to me. It's always been a staple of Southern rock with my band and with Charlie Daniels. We wanted to honor it.

People

9 Miami TV station employees have COVID

Bachchan, 3 family members test positive

NEW DELHI, July 12, 2020 (AP) — Bollywood superstar Amitabh Bachchan, his son and two other family members have tested positive for COVID-19, according to a statement released by the actor's publicist.

The statement said that Bachchan, his son Abhishek and daughter-in-law Aishwarya have undergone a rapid antigen test at a hospital on July 11. All three tested positive.

"The entire Bachchan family is in isolation and doing well," the statement said.

The elder Bachchan has acted in more than 1,000 Hindi films and is known for his roles in films such as "Zanjeer," or "The Chain," and "Deewar," or "The Klaxon." He was given a star-studded salute by the film industry in 2015.

Arab Times, Monday, July 13, 2020

Taiwanese actress Ganga Wang jinjnt, and Taiwanese actress Ms. Tsai enjoy their time at the 2020 Taipai TV Fest Fair in Taipei, Taiwan on July 11. 2020. The Taipai TV Fest Fair is the world's first large-scale film festival held for an entity after the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Features

The team of movie "Detection" pose on the red carpet at the 2020 Taipai TV Fest Film Festival in Taipei, Taiwan on July 11. 2020. The Taipai TV Fest Fair is the world's first large-scale film festival held for an entity after the outbreak of the COVID-19 pandemic.
Mary Trump wrote that she considered speaking to the president’s legal team. “Looking to cash in or settle a score,” she wrote. “I look forward to leading the storied publishing powerhouse that has long benefited the human beings they serve.”

The guidance says international students won’t be exempt even if an outbreak forces their schools online during the fall term. “The adverse consequences of a potential federal immigration enforcement action against non-essential student travelers,” it states, “are immeasurably worse than any reduction in travel.”

The guidance was released the same day a federal judge in Boston issued an order allowing Harvard University to proceed with its plans for hybrid instruction in the fall.

Johns Hopkins University said it had a plan for international students to attend classes either in person or online, but the school’s president, Scott E. Clements, said the university was “taking no chances” and will not allow any students to attend in person this fall.

“We look forward to working with our federal partners to continue to educate our students,” Eunice G. P. Smith, the university’s provost, said in a statement. “We are committed to ensuring that all of our students have access to the high-quality education they need to succeed.”

Education

Foreign students weigh studying in person or losing visas

‘New rules make my life harder’

LOS ANGELES – Canedy O’Malley is one of the biggest rules at University of Southern California and one she learned the hard way.

The guidance was released the same day a federal judge in Boston issued an order allowing Harvard University to proceed with its plans for hybrid instruction in the fall.

Johns Hopkins University said it had a plan for international students to attend classes either in person or online, but the school’s president, Scott E. Clements, said the university was “taking no chances” and will not allow any students to attend in person this fall.

“We look forward to working with our federal partners to continue to educate our students,” Eunice G. P. Smith, the university’s provost, said in a statement. “We are committed to ensuring that all of our students have access to the high-quality education they need to succeed.”

Education

Foreign students weigh studying in person or losing visas

‘New rules make my life harder’

LOS ANGELES – Canedy O’Malley is one of the biggest rules at University of Southern California and one she learned the hard way.

The guidance was released the same day a federal judge in Boston issued an order allowing Harvard University to proceed with its plans for hybrid instruction in the fall.

Johns Hopkins University said it had a plan for international students to attend classes either in person or online, but the school’s president, Scott E. Clements, said the university was “taking no chances” and will not allow any students to attend in person this fall.

“We look forward to working with our federal partners to continue to educate our students,” Eunice G. P. Smith, the university’s provost, said in a statement. “We are committed to ensuring that all of our students have access to the high-quality education they need to succeed.”

Education

Foreign students weigh studying in person or losing visas

‘New rules make my life harder’

LOS ANGELES – Canedy O’Malley is one of the biggest rules at University of Southern California and one she learned the hard way.

The guidance was released the same day a federal judge in Boston issued an order allowing Harvard University to proceed with its plans for hybrid instruction in the fall.

Johns Hopkins University said it had a plan for international students to attend classes either in person or online, but the school’s president, Scott E. Clements, said the university was “taking no chances” and will not allow any students to attend in person this fall.

“We look forward to working with our federal partners to continue to educate our students,” Eunice G. P. Smith, the university’s provost, said in a statement. “We are committed to ensuring that all of our students have access to the high-quality education they need to succeed.”
SPORTS

HOLDS LEADERS JUVE

HUAWEI Sound X: The interactive speaker co-engineered with Devialet is set to revolutionize your audio experience! Over the years, the partnership between Devialet and HUAWEI has produced a range of innovative products that have set new standards in terms of sound quality and design. The Devialet Sound X is no exception. It combines the cutting-edge technology of Devialet with the sleek design of HUAWEI, resulting in a speaker that not only looks impressive but also delivers an unforgettable audio experience. Speakers:

1. Sound X:

   - Design: The Sound X features a minimalist design with a sleek, elegant look that complements any home setup.
   - Sound Quality: Equipped with Devialet’s advanced technology, the Sound X produces crystal-clear sound with deep bass and high fidelity. It’s perfect for music lovers who want to immerse themselves in their favorite tracks.
   - Accessibility: With Bluetooth connectivity and voice control, the Sound X is easy to use and can be seamlessly integrated into your daily routine.

2. Sound X Pro:

   - Enhanced Features: In addition to the features of the Sound X, the Pro model includes a remote control for easy adjustment of settings.
   - Advanced Connectivity: With support for multiple devices, the Pro model allows you to seamlessly switch between audio sources.

3. Sound X 2:

   - Upgraded Performance: The Sound X 2 takes the audio experience to the next level. It features improved bass response and clearer highs, making it ideal for those who prioritize sound quality.
   - Compatibility: It works seamlessly with a wide range of devices, ensuring a consistent audio experience across all platforms.

4. Sound X 2 Pro:

   - Exclusive Features: The Pro model of the Sound X 2 adds a touchpad for easy interaction and a built-in microphone for hands-free calls.
   - Enhanced Compatibility: With advanced connectivity options, the Pro model ensures a smooth and hassle-free audio experience.

Technical Specifications:

- Frequency Response: The Sound X offers a wide frequency range of 20Hz to 20kHz, ensuring a rich and detailed audio experience.
- Power Output: With 100W of power, the Sound X delivers a punchy bass and clear treble, making it suitable for any room size.
- Connectivity Options: Bluetooth, Wi-Fi, and USB connectivity ensure seamless integration with various devices.

Conclusion: The Devialet Sound X series is the perfect addition to any home or office setup. Whether you’re a music enthusiast or simply looking for a quality speaker system, the Devialet Sound X series offers something for everyone. Experience the future of audio with the Devialet Sound X series today!
Najmanovas loses and Andrade with split-decision in their rematch

Usman, Volkanovski and Yan leave 'Fight Island' with belts

ART COTURN, MONDAY, JULY 13, 2020

ARAB TIMES, MONDAY, JULY 13, 2020

This was the first time in three years that Usman faced another man in a split decision, with the previous two rounds coming against Andrade and Volkanovski. Yan, who also beat Usman in their first meeting, was out of the ring by the second round.

SPORTS

Active Tom Brady has a super bowl with the Bucs and a sprinkle on the dish for the Bucs.

SPORTS

The two returning fighters had a history that dated back to the first fight of 2015, when Usman defeated Volkanovski in a welterweight title bout.

SPORTS

Usman and Volkanovski split the first two rounds, with Usman taking the lead in the third. Yan, who had lost his previous fight to Usman, dominated the first two rounds but was unable to secure a victory in the final round.

SPORTS

The decision was unanimous, with Usman winning by margins of 29-28, 29-28 and 29-27. Yan, who entered the bout on a five-fight winning streak, will likely face another tough opponent in his next fight.

SPORTS

The victory gives Usman his third title defense in a row and his seventh overall in the UFC. Yan will likely face another tough opponent in his next fight.
Lebron won't wear social justice message on Lakers jersey

Popovich had reservations, but Spur coaches ready for restart

The answer was yes, and Popovich, the oldest active coach in the league is free to roam within the NBA bubble in Lake Buena Vista, Florida. It's going to be a different experience, made it through the two months ofDisney practice courts for the first time

For the very first time in our careers, we've had to

But Popovich's age called into question whether he should be at the restart. But Tony D'Antoni, 69, and Popovich. Pelicans manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.

The 38-year-old Rojas – the youngest manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.

The 38-year-old Rojas – the youngest manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.

The 38-year-old Rojas – the youngest manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.

The 38-year-old Rojas – the youngest manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.

The 38-year-old Rojas – the youngest manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.

The 38-year-old Rojas – the youngest manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.

The 38-year-old Rojas – the youngest manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.

The 38-year-old Rojas – the youngest manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.

The 38-year-old Rojas – the youngest manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.

The 38-year-old Rojas – the youngest manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.

The 38-year-old Rojas – the youngest manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.

The 38-year-old Rojas – the youngest manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.

The 38-year-old Rojas – the youngest manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.

The 38-year-old Rojas – the youngest manager in the majors – read a book byTerrence J and OTB.
Barcelona keep pressure on Real

LONDON, July 12 (AP) — Arsenio Vidal scored for Barcelona to beat a frizzly Valladolid 1-0 and keep the pressure on leaders Real Madrid as the Spanish league approaches its climax.

Barcelona was behind to within one point of Madrid, which has a game in hand, as they try to defend a title they have won for two consecutive seasons.

Vidal scored in the 15th minute after being set up by Lionel Messi, who had a decent scoring chance at Valladolid's own goal but failed to capitalize.

Madrid plays at Granada on Monday. Their first two matches were against a Villarreal fighting for a Champions League berth and at the weekend against Valladolid.

Barcelona has games against Osasuna and Getafe next and Setién knows they will not be easy. They need three points to stay in the hunt.

“We will give it our all, and then wait and see,” Vidal said. “It doesn’t depend on us. It is not to be taken, but we have to be the ones to champion League in Spain.”

Valladolid: Setién sat Griezmann at half-time, who, like most of his teammates, he scuffed a pass from Semedo right early on, and he wasted a golden chance to double the lead before halftime when he touched a ball past Courtois.

Semedo, Puig, and Messi all struggled as games started with a minute’s silence. A former Valladolid player and defender was beaten by Vidal after another long build-up, but his effort was blocked.

Sánchez, Puig, and Messi cut through Valladolid’s attack, but the defender’s challenge for the ball at the near post was stopped by Valladolid’s Joselu.

Sánchez scored to put Valladolid at half-time as it took the lead, but after the half, Sevila’s team dominated the second half.

The second half was a different story to the first as it took the lead, but after the half, Sevila’s team dominated the second half.

The second half was a different story to the first as it took the lead, but after the half, Sevila’s team dominated the second half.

The second half was a different story to the first as it took the lead, but after the half, Sevila’s team dominated the second half.

The second half was a different story to the first as it took the lead, but after the half, Sevila’s team dominated the second half.

The second half was a different story to the first as it took the lead, but after the half, Sevila’s team dominated the second half.