Kuwait City, May 27: The Al-Rai daily has learned from reliable sources that the Ministry of Interior has agreed to issue the security authorities the permission to benefit from the ammunition that was issued by the Ministry of Defense. The ammunition was intended for the security forces, but it has not been utilized due to the low security situation in the country.

The Ministry of Interior has decided to issue the ammunition to the security forces to be used in case of need before the full lockdown is lifted. The decision was taken into consideration the circumstances and the increasing consumption of ammunition.

The move is expected to help the security forces to better protect themselves during patrols and operations. The ammunition will be distributed to the various security units, including the police and the military.

The Ministry of Interior has been under pressure to increase the security measures in the country due to the recent security incidents. The move is seen as a positive step towards maintaining security and order.

Arms and ammunition are essential for the security forces to carry out their duties effectively. The decision is expected to boost the morale of the security forces and increase their confidence in protecting the country.

The Ministry of Interior has been working closely with the Ministry of Defense to manage the distribution of arms and ammunition. The decision is expected to be welcomed by the security forces and the public.

The move is seen as a practical step to ensure the security forces are well-equipped to carry out their duties. It is hoped that the decision will help prevent any potential security incidents and ensure the safety of citizens.
