Darin Ruf also homered for the Giants. They won two of three in the interleague matchup of division leaders and have the best record in the majors at 66-39.

Acquired in a trade from the Chicago Cubs for two minor league prospects just minutes before Friday's deadline, Bryant was greeted by chants of "KB!, KB!" when he trotted onto the field for pregame warmups and received a standing ovation before his first at-bat. The four-time All-Star was cheered again after striking out swinging.

Those cheers got louder after Bryant crushed an 0-1 pitch from Luis García (7-6) into the left field stands for his 19th home run this season.

The partisan New York crowd in Miami finally got to cheer when the Yankees had an eighth-inning rally highlighted by RBI singles from Rizzo and Aaron Judge.

Rizzo, who went to high school in the Miami area, singled home Brett Gardner for the tying run in his third game with the Yankees. The first baseman was acquired in a trade from the Chicago Cubs at the trade deadline and hit a homer in each of his first two games with New York before Sunday's clutch at-bat.

Joely Rodríguez (2-3) got the win in relief, and Aroldis Chapman retired the side in the ninth for his 22nd save. Anthony Bass (1-6) took the loss.

Nick Pivetta (8-5) was the loser.

Reds 7, Mets 1

In New York, rookie Max Schrock went 5 for 5 with a home run while giving All-Star Joey Votto a break, leading fellow newcomer Vladimir Gutierrez and Cincinnati past New York.

Making his first major league start at first base, the 26-year-old Schrock - who's also made a relief pitching appearance this year - scored three runs and drove in two.

Votto got a rest from manager David Bell a day after his seven-game home run streak came to an end.

BASEBALL

Gutierrez (6-3) allowed three hits in seven innings. His only blemish was a sixth-inning home run to Jeff McNeil.

In his second game with his new team, Javier Baez went hitless in four at-bats for the NL East-leading Mets. Marcus Stroman (7-10) was the loser.

Tigers 6, Orioles 2

In Detroit, Eric Haase hit a two-run double in a three-run first inning and Detroit beat Baltimore.

Nationals 6, Cubs 5

In Washington, Yadiel Hernandez's solo shot in the ninth inning - his second homer of the day - gave Washington the victory over Chicago.

Hernandez had a four-hit day to help the Nationals overcome three home runs by Rafael Ortega. Chicago following trade deadline selloffs that scattered many of the players who helped both teams win the World Series recently.

Athletics 8, Angels 3

In Anaheim, Calif., Yan Gomes homered in his Oakland debut, fellow newcomer Starling Marte had three hits and stole three bases, and the Athletics beat Los Angeles.

Gomes, acquired from Washington at the trade deadline Friday, hit a two-run homer. Marte joined the A's a couple days earlier in a trade with Miami.

Rangers 4, Mariners 3

In Arlington, Texas, Jonah Heim hit his second walk-off homer in two games right after a tying, two-run shot from Andy Ibáñez in the ninth inning, and Texas rallied again to beat Seattle.

Heim and Ibáñez connected against reliever Erik Swanson (0-1), who hadn't allowed a run since now-former Texas slugger Joey Gallo went deep against him in the same ballpark May 8.

Padres 8, Rockies 1

In San Diego, Ha-Seong Kim homered and drove in three runs. Jake Cronin contributed three hits and San Diego beat Colorado.
